and in the church also by realizing that all the denominations of Christians have yielded noble institutions and noble There is nothing that so stirs my soul as this thought. One denomination yielded a Robert Hall and an Adoniram Judson; another yielded a Latimer and a Melville; another yielded John Wes-ley and the blessed Summerfield, while our own denomination yielded John Knox and the Alexanders—men of whom the world was not worthy. Now, I say, if we are honest and fair minded men, when we come up in the presence of such churches and such denominations, although they may be different from our own, we ought to admire them, and we ought to love and honor them. Churches which can produce such nen and such large hearted charity and such magnificent martyrdom ought to win our affection—at any rate, our respect. So come on, ye 600,000 Episco-palians in this country and ye 1,400,-000 Presbyterians and ye 4,000,000 Baptists and ye 5,000,000 Methodists come on; shoulder to shoulder we will march for the world's conquest, for all nations are to be saved, and God de mands that you and I help. Forward, the whole line! In the Young Men's Christian associations, in the Bible society, in the Tract society, in the For-eign Missionary society, shoulder to shoulder, all denominations.

Brothers Forever. Perhaps I might forcefully illustrate this truth by calling your attention to an incident which took place 25 years ago. One Menday morning at about 2 clock, while her 900 passengers were ound asleep in her berths dreaming of home, the steamer Atlantic crashed into Mars head. Five hundred souls in ten ainutes landed in eternity. Oh, what scene! Agonized men and women running up and down the gangways and clutching for the rigging, and the plunge of the helpless steamer and the clapping of the hands of the merciless sea over the drowning and the dead threw two continents into terror. But | see this brave quartermaster pushing ont with the life line until he gets to the rock, and see these fishermen gathering up the shipwrecked and taking them into the cabins and wrapping them in the flannels snug and warm and see that minister of the gospel with three other men getting into a lifeboat and pushing out for the wreck, pulling across the surf and pulling away until they saved one more man and hen getting back with him to the Can those men ever forget that companionship in peril, companionship in struggle, companionship in awful catastrophe and rescue? Never! Never! they will be friends when they mention lantic struck Mars head. Well, my friends, our world has gone into a worse shipwreck. Sin drove it on the rocks. The old ship has lurched and tossed in the tempests of 6,000 years. Out with the life line! I do not care what denom ination carries it. Out with the life-boat! I do not care what denomination rows it. Side by side, in the memory of common hardships, and common trials, and common prayers, and com-mon tears, let us be brothers forever. We must be
